

Marta Mendoza

Marta is a Yucca Valley Resident, who moved here from San Diego, California. Marta was influenced as a young child by watching her father paint. She learned about color, texture, movement, shading and much more. Her father taught her how to draw with pencil and use of clay. With a brother and sister that also entered the art world she learned by watching and listening.

Working with many mediums she came upon resin and began experimenting with various techniques to arrive at the place she is at today. Her work has been displayed at the 29 Art Gallery and in stores in Yucca Valley. Marta's work is influenced by her love of nature and her indigenous background. Her wish is to bring joy of nature into the hearts of those who view her art and grow in her craft to continue to make her audience smile.
